COURSE PLANNING & REGISTRATION

I have questions about course registration, changing my class schedule, or the classes I need for my major. Where can I go to find this information?

First-year students with questions about course registration or major requirements should schedule an appointment with their advisor or go here for more information.

ATHLETICS

What sports teams does CSU have?

Tickets are different for each sport, and not all sports require tickets. Information about tickets can be found here.

How do I get tickets to games?

CSU has 8 men's and 11 women's sports teams. Information about each team can be found here.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

How do I know which books I need?

The first week of class, you will get a syllabus for each class which will include what textbook(s) you need. If you want to order your books ahead of time, you can look at required books for each class here.

Do I have to purchase all the books for every class?

It really depends on the class! We recommend looking at your syllabus or speaking with your instructors

Should I buy books in person, online, rent, or e-books?

It depends on your preference and learning style. If you highlight and write in your textbooks, than renting probably is not the right fit. If you do not like reading from a screen, maybe you would rather use a physical book instead of an e-book.

When should I buy books?

You can buy books from the Viking Outfitters, the campus bookstore either in person or online!

I don't have my own computer, are there ones on campus I can use?

Information Services & Technology (IS&T) maintains several general computer labs equipped with over 200 large, 22-inch screen computer monitors across campus for free computer access to students. A list of all General Computer Labs and specific details concerning them can be found here.

Students can also borrow laptop computers, tablets, MacBook Airs, or scientific calculators for free at the Mobile Campus laptop loan counter either in the Student Center or at the Circulation Desk in the Michael Schwartz Library in Rhodes Tower

Do I get free printing as a CSU student?

Limited free printing is provided to every student (2,000 black & white pages or 160 color pages per semester). More information on print purchases and refunds can be found here.

My classes expect me to use Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and other software that I don't have. Where can I get Microsoft Office?

Did you know all CSU students get free access to Microsoft Suite to download on their personal laptops? Microsoft Suite includes Microsoft Word, Powerpoint, Excel, Outlook, OneNote, Access, Publisher, Skype, and OneDrive. For more information about downloading the Microsoft Suite, click here.

VIKING CARD

What is a Viking Card and why do I need one?

The Viking Card is the official identification card for all Cleveland State University students, faculty, and staff. The card is required for all active members of the Cleveland State University community. Departments use the Viking Card ID as a means to grant access to information and services. Use your Viking Card ID to access buildings, labs and parking garages, to check out books at campus libraries, take tests, use your meal plans, carry Vikingcash to make on-campus purchases and to attend CSU sporting events. Information about how to get your Viking Card can be found here.

What do I do if I lose my Viking Card?

There are a few steps you will need to take if you lose your Viking Card. Click here to find out more.

DINING

Do I need to have a meal plan? What types of meal plans are there?

Residents who live on campus (in Fenn Tower or Euclid Commons) must purchase a Residential Meal Plan. All other students may purchase any Voluntary Meal Plan or Residential Meal Plan if they desire. Information about dining options and meal plans can be found here.

PAYING FOR SCHOOL

I have questions about my FAFSA and paying for school, who should I talk to?

Paying for college can be confusing! We recommend you speak with the Financial Aid Office.They have created some FAQs that might answer your questions. Don't forget that FASFA for the following academic year opens October 1!

Does CSU have any scholarship opportunities for incoming first-year students?

Yes! A list of scholarships can be found here.

SUPPORT SERVICES

I have a documented learning disability and need accomodations, who do I talk to about that?

The Office of Disability Services is here to help students with documented disabilities and need for accommodations. Information about the process of registering with the Office of Disability Services can be found here.

I am an international student, is there an office or department that focuses on that?

The mission of the Center for International Services and Programs (CISP) is to serve and promote an urban university where students, faculty and staff gain international knowledge and experience. More information about the resources and support that is available can be found here.

Where can I find more information about the resources offered in the Library?

The Michael Schwartz Library houses great resources for students, such as personal librarians for departments, database access, and a collection of e-books. More information about the Michael Schwartz Library can be found here.

I'm nervous about my English classes and writing at the college level, is there anyone that can help me?

The CSU Writing Center and WAC (Writing Across the Curriculum) Program are here to help! The Writing Center offers individual appointments with tutors, workshops, and writing resources to help students adjust to writing at the college level. More information about the Writing Center & WAC Program resources can be found here.

I think I might need help with my math courses, is there anyone that can help me?

The Math Learning Center, located in BH 230, offers an encouraging walk-in environment that promotes students' mathematical learning. Experienced graduate and undergraduate Learning Assistants engage students and further their conceptual and computational understanding in all aspects of their mathematics coursework. Information about the Math Learning Center can be found here.

The Math Emporium, located on the second floor of the Michael Schwartz Library (RT 230) is a state-of-the-art learning center where students can interact with adaptive MyMathLab Plus software and a highly skilled instructional team. Students learn through an innovative, engaging, and easy-to-use program designed to help them become comfortable and proficient in basic mathematics.

If I have trouble with my classes, is there somewhere I can go for tutoring?

The Tutoring & Academic Success Center (TASC) offers free group tutoring, structured learning assistance, and supplemental instruction for a wide variety of courses each semester! They also success coaching and software assistance. More information on the resources TASC offers can be found here.

Is there an LGBTQ+ Center on campus?

Yes! LGBT+ Student Services is committed to enhancing the overall educational experience of the CSU community. They provide resources, support, and educational programming that promotes the academic and personal growth and development of gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender and queer/questioning students and their allies. They work to assure unrestricted access to and full involvement in all aspects of CSU, and strive to create a more inclusive welcoming campus climate for all students. Stop into the LGBT+ Center in BH 211 or click here for more information.

Are there any resources for veterans?

Yes! The Veteran Student Success Program serves the over 600 veterans attending Cleveland State University and provides multiple services to all veterans, serving military personnel and military family attending CSU.

More information regarding the Veteran Student Success Program can be found here.

INVOLVEMENT

How can I get involved on campus?

The Center for Student Activities & Involvement (CSAI) is the University's hub for students with a wide variety of interests wanting to get involved on campus! More information about how to get involved can be found here.

CAREER SERVICES

If you are interested in student employment, visit Career Services (RW 280) or the following web links to learn more:

I'm interested in what Career Services offers.

I need help with career planning.

I want to access Hire a Vike to look for federal work study positions, on campus employment opportunities, or internships.

I need more information about campus student employment.

STUDENT HEALTH AND WELLNESS

What resources are available to me as a CSU student related to health and wellness?

CSU's Health & Wellness Services offers a wide variety of services including primary and same day care, health counseling, limited in-house pharmacy and lab services, shots and immunizations center. Visit them in IM 205 or click here for more information.

The Counseling Center is free for CSU students and offers individual and group counseling services, as well as workshops and outreach programs. The Counseling Center is located in UN 220 and is staffed by both licensed mental health professionals and doctoral level trainees.

The CSU CARE (Community Assessment Response & Evaluation) Team works collaboratively to support the wellbeing and safety of students, faculty, staff, and to promote a culture on campus that encourages reporting of concerns.

CASC (Counseling and Academic Success Clinic): CASC is an on-campus resource providing free, supportive counseling and coaching services to undergraduate and graduate students of Cleveland State University.

TECHNOLOGY

What services are offered by the Center for eLearning for current students?

The Center for eLearning helps students be successful online learners and offers students 24/7 Blackboard technical support and a self-paced Blackboard Orientation course. Find out more here.

I keep hearing people talk about Starfish--what is Starfish and what can I use it for?

Click here to learn more about CSU's Starfish platform.

What is Blackboard? Where do I go if I'm having trouble using it?

Blackboard is a web application that allows students to access supplemental materials posted by their instructors. Instructors also frequently use Blackboard as a place where students can submit assignments. To learn more about Blackboard or get help on using it, click here.

My classes expect me to use Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and other software that I don't have. Where can I get Microsoft Office?

CSU offers each student up to 5 free downloads of Office 365 ProPlus for use on their personal devices. Office 365 ProPlus includes Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, OneNote, and more. For more information and to download, click here.

I'm having trouble using Microsoft Word/Excel, Blackboard, or other computer software. Where can I go to get help?

The Tutoring and Academic Success Center (TASC) at CSU offers assistance with Microsoft Word, Microsoft Excel, Presentation Software, basic Blackboard inquires, saving, sending, and transferring files, and more! Click here for more information

PARKING AND TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

CSU is an urban campus, with 5 parking garages for student use, along with multiple surface lots on the outside perimeters of campus. CSU's parking permits are always in high demand, and it's recommended students purchase parking passes the first day they are available. Every academic year, parking permits go on sale April 1, August 1, and December 1. Parking permit cost is determined by how close one parks to campus, with Green Permits (garages) costing more than White Permits (surface lots). If you'd like to further explore CSU's Parking, or have further questions, click here.

If your question is not answered here, please contact us.

Do I have to always be a full-time student?

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) requires that all individuals in F-1 (student) status pursue a full course of study for the duration of their status. At CSU, this means a minimum of 12 credits for undergraduate students and a minimum of 9 credits for graduate students except when the student needs a lesser course load to complete the course of study during the current term. However, there are exceptions and these include the following:

1.You have completed all course work and are now only working on your thesis or dissertation.
2. It is the last semester of your program of study.
3. You are seriously ill and your doctor has prohibited you from attending school.
4. You are delivering a baby during the upcoming semester.
5. You are on a full time approved CPT.

If any of these situations apply to you for a semester, you MUST complete the Reduce Course Load Request in the CISP Portal.

This must be Submitted no later than the first day of the term.

What do I have to do if I want to travel outside the United States?

The student should contact the Center for International Services and Programs for a signature endorsement on the Form I-20. An immigration advisor will check current registration status of student. If the student is in status, an endorsement will be done. The student can expect to receive the endorsed I-20 within 5 - 10 full business days.

I want to work / I need permission to work, what should I do?

On-Campus Employment

F-1 visa students may work on campus. Once an offer of on-campus employment has been made to a student, they must obtain an SSN Employment verification letter from Center for International Services and Programs (CISP) if they do not already have a US social security number. They must then take that form to the hiring department and have them sign the form. The form must then be returned to the CISP for approval. After the signature has been obtained from the CISP the students will then take the form to the Social Security Administration to apply for their Social Security number. All postings for on-campus employment are posted on line through the Student Employment website. Students may only work up to 20 hours during the semester and up to 40 hours during the summer. The hiring department will help to complete all other paperwork regarding employment.

Off-Campus Work

Students, who are in F-1 status, may not work off-campus without employment authorization. After being in F-1 status and being full-time for 9 consecutive months, a student may consider applying for off-campus work. Work opportunities are, however, very limited as the United States tries to protect its job market.

Could I get a new Form I-20 if I lost my original copy?

The student should contact the Center for International Services and Programs to schedule an appointment to meet with the international student advisor to discuss the lost Form I-20 and to request a new one. Generally, students will be encouraged to look carefully for the missing Form I-20. If the Form I-20 was stolen, the student will be encouraged to file a police report. A replacement Form I-20 may then be issued to the student. Please use the eform to apply for a new I-20.

I lost my Form I-20 form. What should I do?

You need to request a new form from the CISP office. Processing time will take approximately 5-10 days.

I lost my passport. Can you replace it?

We cannot replace your passport. You will need to contact the embassy of your country in Washington, D.C. to report the loss and request a new passport.

Can I work on campus?

Yes, you can, if you are a J-1 or F-1 student. On campus employment is incidental to your status, but you cannot work more than 20 hours when school is in session. You may work up to 40 hours during the summer holiday. J-1 students whose program sponsor is an organization other than CSU (such as Fulbright, IIE, LASPAU, AMIDEAST, ISEP, etc) must secure permission from the program sponsor before accepting employment.

I want to bring my wife or children to stay with me in the U.S. What should I do?

Please contact the CISP. You will receive some initial information about your rights and responsibilities when bringing dependents to the U.S. You will complete a request form for dependents, which will be endorsed by CISP. You will have to submit this information along with proof that you will be able to support your dependents financially. The university requires proof of an additional $3,500 for a spouse, $1,500 for the first dependent child, and $1000 for each additional child.

Can my parents be included in my Form I-20?

No. Only spouses and dependent children can be added to your Form I-20 form.

Can my wife / husband work?

Spouses in F-2 status cannot work under any circumstances. Spouses in J-2 status may work with USCIS permission.

Can I renew my visa without leaving the United States?

No. Visas can be obtained and renewed only outside the U.S.

I have a valid visa in my old passport, but I have a new passport. Can I still use my visa?

Yes, you can use your valid visa in your old passport. When you travel, you will have to carry both your new passport, and the old one with the visa in it. If you have to return your old passport when you get a new one, you will lose your visa, and have to apply for a new one before you return to the U.S.

My Form I-20 is going to expire, do I need to extend it?

Please contact the Center for international Services Programs to discuss your reason for extending your degree program/Form I-20. Only students with legitimate academic reasons will be authorized for program extension.

My visa is going to expire, what should I do?

The visa is a travel document issued by a U.S. embassy/consulate abroad, usually in the student's home country and it is a permission by the U.S. government to legally enter the U.S. It is not possible to obtain a visa while you are in the U.S., however if your visa expires you can remain in the U.S. as long as your Form I-20 as well as your I-94 are valid and you are a full-time student.

What if I want my family or friends from my home country to attend my commencement?

Please see our web page about inviting family for a visit.

I don't work in the US. Do I need to file information to IRS?

If you have NOT worked in the US, you will NOT receive a W-2 form but you will still need to file Form 8843. Please see our website about a tax service that you can access for a small fee. It is specifically geared towards international students and scholars.

I plan to go home. How long can I stay in the U.S. before I go home?

All F-1 students have a 60 day grace period after completion of studies but you must leave the US before the 60 day period is met.

I plan to go to another school. What should I do?

Request your SEVIS record/ Form I-20 to be electronically sent by completing our e-form for Transfer Out. We ask you to please include a copy your admission letter from the new school. You must request to have your SEVIS record transferred NO LATER than 60 days after you complete studies. You must be enrolled in classes at the new school no later than 5 months after completion of studies.

Residence Life and Housing

Frequently Asked Questions

Housing Contract Questions

Q: How can I pay my room and board fees?

A: All fees are posted to your student account. Check your CampusNet Account for your fees. All fees are paid through your CampusNet account.

Q: Will you send me a bill each month for rent?

A: No. You will be responsible for paying your housing fees on time by the beginning of each semester. Students may also register for CSU's budget payment plan by contacting Campus 411.

All housing fees must be paid before you may move in to your on-campus room. Please contact Campus 411 for any questions regarding financial aid, scholarships, loans, and the Budget Payment Plan to satisfy your housing balance.

Q: Can I sublet my apartment?

A: No, you may not. If you want to be released from your housing contract, please complete a Contract Cancellation Request Form via Housing Self-Service. A contract cancellation penalty (fee) may apply. Please note that completing a request does not guarantee approval.

Q: How much did I pay in a security deposit? What is that used for, and when do I get I back?

A: Your $200 housing deposit has been set aside on your account until the termination of your contract(s). After the termination of your contract(s), your deposit may be applied to any damage charges or cleaning fees assessed, as well as any outstanding balances on your CSU student account (CampusNet). If there is a credit remaining on your account, a credit will be issued to your student account. Refunds will be issued following the Bursar's Office refund policy.

What's in my room?

Q: What size is the bed in my room?

A: Most rooms in Euclid Commons are private bedrooms with Full XL beds; there are a limited number of shared bedrooms in Euclid Commons that have Twin XL beds. The Langston and The Edge have Full XL beds. The Langston Double-Ups are Twin XL.

Q: Is there furniture, closets, bathroom(s) in my unit?

A: Every unit in Euclid Commons, The Edge, and The Langston comes furnished with a bed, bedframe, desk with chair, dresser drawers, and closet for each resident. Additional furniture is provided in the common area, including at least a couch and entertainment stand/table. *The Langston does not provide a desk and desk chair.

Euclid Commons Residents have one bathroom to share with one other resident. Euclid Commons units have full kitchens with oven-stove, refrigerator, microwave, sink, and dishwasher.

The Edge and The Langston residents have their own individual bathroom.

What can I have in my room?

Here is a suggested Move-In Packing List, as well as common questions.

Q: Can I bring a mini-fridge?

A: You may have in your room a refrigerator with a capacity not to exceed five (5) amps, and no taller than three (3) feet in height.

Q: What other appliances can I bring with me?

A: Please review the full policy on appliances. You must operate all appliances in a safe manner at all times. Appliance use which results in the sounding of the smoke alarm or fire alarm will be considered to be unsafe.

All electrical appliances in use in the residence hall must have the Underwriter's Laboratory (UL) approval.

For those rooms without a kitchenette, you may possess and use a small microwave oven with no more than nine hundred (900) watts.

Q: What items should I leave at home?

A: For a detailed list, please review the Resident Handbook: Prohibited Items)

Q: Am I allowed to have a pet?

A: You are not permitted to have a pet in your room, except for fish in a single aquarium with a capacity of no more than ten (10) gallons. Only one such aquarium is permitted in each room regardless of the number of individuals assigned to the room. You are required to unplug any and all electrical aquarium accessories during times that the residence hall is closed and/or during break periods when you have not been granted permission to reside during a break period. Residence life staff are not responsible for caring for fish left in a unit during a break period. (For more see: Animals)

Q: I want to have my bike on campus, can I keep it in my room?

A: You may bring bicycles, rollerblades, skateboards, and scooters to campus (except as noted in the paragraph below). Please review the full bike/etc. policy here.

Q: Can I bring curtains for my room?

A: Each room has blinds installed; however, you may bring curtains if you wish. Please note that no items, signs, window clings, sticky notes, or posters may be displayed in or on the residential windows in such a way that they are visible from outside the building, and should not hinder the view of emergency personnel in identifying the source of a fire. This applies if you wish to use flags, tapestries, towels, etc. as curtains in your room.

Q: Can I post things on my windows or hallway door?

A: You are not permitted to display any item on your room door or main unit door (a door that faces the hallway) which includes obscenity or which violates Residence Life's harassment policy (See Harassment). Please refer to the fire safety and door policies for what items are permitted on your door. No items, signs, window clings, sticky notes, or posters may be displayed in or on the residential windows in such a way that they are visible from outside the building, and should not hinder the view of emergency personnel in identifying the source of a fire.

Who can come to visit me?

Q: Am I allowed to have guests visit?

A: Yes. As the host, you must sign in and sign out your guest(s) each and every time they enter or exit the building. You must show your CSU ID to the community desk attendant and your guest(s) must relinquish a state-issued ID or a valid CSU ID to the community desk while a guest in the residence hall.

A Viking Card is considered valid if the person is a current student at Cleveland State University. A valid State ID will be required for all other guests.

Q: I have a guest who has a passport. Can they use that to be checked-in?

A: A special guest pass may be issued to individuals needing to check-in with either a) a passport, b) military ID, or c) international ID by a member of staff. To obtain a special guest pass during business hours, you should go to the Euclid Commons Residence Life Office. To obtain a special guest pass after business hours, contact the Community Front Desk.

Q: Can my guest be checked-in with a photo ID from another school?

A: No, we are unable to permit guests to check in with an ID from another school.

Q: How many guests can I have at a time?

A: You are not permitted to host more than two (2) guests at the same time and are limited to a total of six (6) guests within a twenty-four (24) hour period. An exception may be made by the Residence Life staff if the guests are family members and/or if there is a special event occurring on campus (Commencement, Little Sibs Weekend, etc.) You should communicate with your roommates to ensure that you are not exceeding room capacity, as it is a fire hazard. See the Room Capacity policy for more information.

Q: How long can my guests stay?

A: Guests are permitted to stay fewer than three (3) nights in any seven (7) day period. (For more information, see Cohabitation.)

If you or your roommate(s) wish to have an overnight guest stay in your room, you need to agree to the date, manner, and duration of the stay in advance. You and/or your roommate(s) may not displace the other(s) as a result of a guest's overnight stay. If one roommate does not agree to the other having guests, then guests are not permitted in that room.

Q: I want to hang out with friends outside of my room. Are there places in the building we can go to?

A: You and your guests are allowed in all common areas. Common areas include all lounges, game rooms, laundry rooms, community kitchens (Fenn Tower only), outdoor courtyards, and hallways within Euclid Commons and Fenn Tower. Residents and guests are expected to abide by all residence hall policies when using common areas. All non- residents must be checked in as guests in order to be present in common areas. Sleeping in common areas is prohibited.

Q: Where should my guests park when they come to visit?

A: Please visit this link for specific information about visitor parking.

How do I...?

Q: Change my meal plan?

A: Students will be able to log on to Housing Self-Service to change their meal plan if they are looking for other options beginning in August. Meal plans and rates for 2025-2026 can be viewed here. (Fall 26-27 rates coming soon)!

Q: Get a parking pass?

A: You can contact CSU Parking Services or visit their website.

Q: Move – In?

A: Please refer to the Incoming Student Housing Process for additional information on Move-In!

Q: Request a room change?

A: The Department of Residence Life and Housing does not grant any room change requests during the first two (2) weeks of each semester as a means of encouraging newly-assigned roommates to make a sincere effort to live together in a mutually respectful environment. A resident requesting a room change must complete a Room Change Request form in their Resident Portal. You may be required to participate in a mediation or meeting with a member of the Professional Staff prior to any room change being made. Room changes are made at the discretion of Residence Life and Housing Staff.

If you relocate within your suite or the community without the prior written permission of the Director of Residence Life or a designee, you will be assessed a $500 fee and be subject to additional judicial action depending on the circumstances. Please refer to the terms of the Housing Contract.

Q: Contact my RA?

A: If you are unsure of who your RA is, you can email your Community Director and they will let you know. If you know who your RA is, you can ask them the best way to contact them (usually they respond to email first).

Q: Pay my bill/rent?

A: If you have questions about paying your bill or for more details regarding charges on your account, please contact Campus411.

Q: Find my mailing address?

A: Please refer to our Mailing Information Guide

Q: Pick up a package/mail?

A: Mailboxes for all residents are located on the first floor of your residential community.

- If you receive a package, an email will be sent to you indicating it may be picked up. If you live in Euclid Commons, you will pick up your package from the Euclid Commons building 4 desk. You may claim your package with proper identification24/7 from the Euclid Commons Building 4 Desk. If you live at The Edge or Langston, you will pick up your package in the package room, open 24/7.
- Packages that are not picked up after 30 days may be returned to the sender.
- Upon moving out, residents are responsible for having their mail forwarded. Any mail received in your name after you check out will be returned to the sender.
- Delivery Services: Residence Life and Housing does not accept packages or deliveries from courier services or other delivery services (such as but not limited to pizza, dry cleaning, DoorDash/Uber Eats, Instacart/Grocery/food deliveries, etc.) Courier deliveries must be accepted directly by the resident. RLH staff will not accept or hold any courier deliveries and are not responsible for any deliveries left at the desk by couriers.

- For mailing addresses for each building please see our Mailing Address Guide. All mail is delivered to our Euclid Commons Residence Life Office. Members of our staff sort the mail each business day and distribute it between both buildings. Individual mail is placed in mailboxes by the turnstiles in Euclid Commons each business day. Use your mail key for access.

Q: Get permission to advertise/hang posters for my organization in the halls?

A: For specific information and guidelines for advertising in the halls, please review the Sales and Solicitation policy. If you'd like to submit a poster or flyer for approval, please email the Department of Residence Life.

Q: Do my laundry?

A: All residence halls have commercial quality washers and dryers which are maintained by the Department of Residence Life for use by residents only. Euclid Commons has laundry rooms spread throughout the building. Fenn Tower has laundry rooms in the basement. Washers and dryers are free to use but you must provide your own laundry detergent. The Edge and The Langston have laundry located within their unit.

What do I do if…?

Q: I forgot my keys or I'm locked out of the building?

A: If you are locked out of your room and/or have forgotten your Viking Card, you must contact the community desk in your residence hall for assistance.

There is a five dollar ($5.00) fee assessed per incident. Residence Life staff members are not permitted to unlock a room for anyone other than its registered occupant(s).

Q: I lost my keys/student ID?

A: If you lose your mailbox and/or room key, you are required to report it immediately to the Department of Residence Life. You will be assessed applicable fees for key and/or lock replacement. If you lose your Viking Card during a time that the Viking Card Office is closed, you may go to your community desk and the Desk Assistant will contact a staff member who will assist you in obtaining a temporary access card.

Q: I don't get along with my roommate?

A: Talking with your roommate is a good first step to resolving conflict. For support, and ideas on how to have these conversations, you should reach out to your RA.

Q: Something in my room is broken or needs to be fixed?

A: You should fill out an online work order by using the link in your RoomPact Account. The maintenance staff will respond to the request within two business days. Failure to file a timely maintenance request may result in further inconvenience and/or delays in the repair.

For emergency maintenance concerns, such as loss of electric power or extensive flooding, etc., immediately contact your residence hall community desk.

Q: I want to move out and cancel my contract?

A: Please refer to the terms of the Cleveland State University Residence Hall Contract for more information. You will submit a Housing Contract

Cancellation Request located on your Housing Self Service Portal to begin the process.

Q: There are pests (ants, mice, etc.) in my room?

A: In the event that an encounter with pests does occur you should submit a work order immediately. For information about how to prevent pests, visit our Cleaning Guide.

Q: I feel lonely, homesick, or stressed?

A: Feeling this way is completely normal! You can always reach out to your RA for support. You can also speak with someone from the Counseling & Academic Success Center to help you strategize some ways to help.

Q: I feel stressed and want some additional support?

A: As a student, you always have access to CSU's Counseling Center. If you feel hopeless or helpless, don't hesitate to call us or use one of their crisis resources:

Crisis Text Line: Text 4hope to 741-741

National Suicide Prevention Lifeline: 1-800-273-8255

Frontline Services: 216-623-6888

Q: I'm not feeling well?

A: If you aren't feeling well you can make an appointment at CSU's Health & Wellness Services. In cases of emergencies, please dial 911.
